“ To The Family Of Eileen Turner: Please accept my deepest sympathy. Death is such an enemy of life, and although it is painful, we all have to face it. Here is a passage that I hope brings comfort to the family found at Acts 24:15, which states: "And have hope towards God, which they themselves also allow, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and the unjust." This is a very comforting passage that I find very comforting, because I know soon I will see my loved one again. I hope this passage bring solace to your family. With sympathy.##imported-begin##Von Holley##imported-end##

“ At this difficult time so many people care deeply about what you’re going through, though no one can truly understand all that you feel...But please remember how much we care, and know you’re surrounded by warm, supportive thoughts and wishes for strength and peace today, and in all the days to come.###imported-begin###Dialysis Family Patients at Mercy Hospital)###imported-end##

“ The tears that dampen our eyes in time of mourning are tears of homesickness, tears of longing for our loved ones. But it is we who are away from home, not they! Death has been for them a doorway to an eternal home. They are still with us, lovingly and tenderly waiting for the day when we, too, will enter the doorway of our eternal home. It is such a mistake to see death as separation and nothing more. For us who believe, death is a preparation for eternal union with those we love, in peace and in joy.###imported-begin###The March Family and Staff###imported-end##
