“ Lainey Girl! I have known you for over 10 years now and each year there are treasured moments that we shared. I could always call or visit you to just talk, listen to that great collection of music you always played... Sitting in the coziness of your home and feeling the love. I will miss you my friend, but I will NEVER forget you. Thank you for all the conversations, adventures and the words of encouragement. Our last conversation was, "Well you know what you need to do"... and I do and I will... I love you Lainey Girl and I promise to keep an eye on Albert. Rest in Peace...

There is a song I want to leave with you.

*I don't know about tomorrow
I just live for day today
I don't borrow from the sunshine
For its skies may turn to gray
I don't worry o'er the future
For I know what Jesus said
And today I'll walk beside Him
For He knows what lies ahead
Many things about tomorrow
I don't seem to understand
But I know who holds tomorrow
And I know who holds my hand
Ev'ry step is getting brighter
As the golden stairs I climb
Ev'ry burden's getting lighter
Ev'ry cloud is silver lined
There the sun is always shining
There no tear will dim the eye
At the ending of the rainbow
Where the mountains touch the sky
Many things about tomorrow
I don't seem to understand
But I know who holds tomorrow
And I know who holds my hand*

“ *When I go to pick up the phone to call my sister, and realize she is no longer there to hear my crazy reviews about life in general, I lose my composure.
I miss her so much. I know she continues to smile from heaven at me when I do crazy things like misplacing my cane, wearing sun glasses looking for my reading glasses etc. Lanie you will always live on in my heart, I love you and miss you so much. Your eldest crazy sister Sarah, (Martha)*

“ Elaine is my little sister and one of my best friends. We talked to each other daily about everyone, everything and about nothing that would make no sense at all. My heart is broken...I miss her more than I could have ever imagined. Elaine will always and forever be with me in my heart.

Always loving you!!!!
