

Elbert Manley

January 13, 1943 - April 10, 2009

ELBERT MANLEY was born January 3, 1943 in Halifax, North Carolina, was the eldest son of the late Cofield Manley and Geneva Davis Manley. He departed this life on Good Friday, April 10, 2009, after a lengthy illness. He was educated in North Carolina School System. At a young age he relocated to Newport News, Virginia. There he worked for the Coca-Cola Bottling Company. He later moved to Baltimore, Maryland and lived with his Aunt Corine Ashe, who treated him like one of her own. While living with his Aunt Corine, he developed a brotherly relationship with his cousin James Ashe, who preceded him in death. He was employed as a school bus driver for various companies. Prior to his illness, he was employed with Gibbs Transportation Services. He enjoyed transporting children to and from school. Elbert, fondly known as Gate, enjoyed spending time with his family and friends. He was famous for his cook-outs, barbecue and serenading his audience with his favorite Christian song "There Was a Woman." He leaves to cherish his memories: seven brothers, Cofield (Buddy), Altonia (Tony), Bobby, Andra (Pap) of Baltimore, Maryland; Chris, Stanley, and Johnell of North Carolina; six sisters, Melinda (whom he shared a special bond with), Sandra, Claudette and Brenda of North Carolina; daughter Capacine Cunningham and two sisters Rose and Delores preceded him in death.; A loving and devoted companion, Lena Edwards; two aunts, Corine Ashe and Berline Johnson of Baltimore, Maryland; one uncle, Henry Davis of North Carolina; two sister-in-laws, Doris Manley and Pearlie Manley of Baltimore Maryland; goddaughter,

Florence; a host of nieces, nephews and other relatives and friends.

“ I am so sorry for the recent loss of your dear one Elbert. Unfortunately, death is a reality, a sad one that affects all of our lives. But God never desired for none of us to die. He created all life and he hates death; viewing it as our worst enemy. Because of this he promises, "As the last enemy, death will be brought to nothing." 1st Cor 15:26. One day we have the hope of being reunited with our loved ones again. Won't that be a day of rejoicing when millions of the dead will come back to life. This is not a mere dream, because Jesus said, "I am the resurrection and the life. "Everyone exercising faith in me, even though he dies, will come to life." Jesus also promises that one day the dead will hear his voice and come out of the memorial tombs. Jehovah has given Jesus all authority in heaven and earth to resurrect the dead. John 5:25,26. Put all your trust in the promises of Jehovah and Jesus, because they will without fail come true. May you be comforted by the holy scriptures.##imported-begin##R Johnson##imported-end##
