

Eleanor D. Jones

May 8, 1939 - November 12, 2010

Eleanor Delores Jones (Delores, Lois) departed this life for eternal rest on November 12, 2010 after a long illness. Delores as she was affectionately called by her family and friends was born May 8, 1939 the 7th of eight children born to Late John Clinton and late Esther Mae Jones.

Delores growing relationship with her mother ended at the tender age of 13, when Esther Jones was called to be with the Lord, leaving rearing and nurturing left to her father and older siblings.

Although a small and petite person in frame Delores was never short for words. Delores made it clear early in life she was a force to be reckoned with and very "Independent" person, a trait that has been passed down to her daughter and her two granddaughters.

Delores was educated in the Baltimore City School System. Everyone knew if you asked Delores (the sister, aunt or friend) "anything" she was going to tell you the truth; and in a few words you may never have heard before. Never the less when she finished you understood where she was coming from.

Delores was always the same. Her favorite gospel song was "Holy Spirits Fill this Room".

Delores leaves to cherish her memories one daughter Carlecia Y. Carroll, son-in-law Larry d. Carroll, two granddaughters, Sharron M. Francis and Christina Y. Carroll, one grandson Larry D. Fearn, one sister Charmaine Hickman and a host of nieces and nephews.

Delores also leaves to cherish her memories the entire staff of Future Care Nursing Home of Irvington.
