

Eliza Lucille Thompson

April 25, 1931 - November 11, 2008

Eliza Lucille Macer, daughter of the late James and Cora Neal Macer, was born on April 25, 1931 in Rosedale, Maryland. She departed this life on November 28, 2008 after a lengthy illness. She received her education in Dorchester County Public Schools. After completing school she began working in a canning factory and later was employed as a substitute teacher for Baltimore City Public Schools. She was baptized at Mount Calvary and later ordained as an evangelist at Faith Tabernacle under Pastor R.G. Hardy. For years, she was affiliated with Israelite Pentecostal Holiness Church where she sang on the Adult Choir and evangelized to many who knew and loved her. She last attended Spread the Word Cathedral until she became ill but continued to praise, worship and preach God's love and forgiveness with whomever she came in contact. She married Freddie Roger Thompson on January 27, 1961. From that union seven children were born- Darlene, Paulette, Constance, Frederick, Lorenzo, Lynndell and Angela. Eliza was lovingly known as Momma to her children and so many others who were blessed by her mothering spirit and giving nature. She remained an avid reader of the Holy Bible and witnessed to so many through the word and her everyday living. She leaves to mourn; her loving husband, Freddie R. Thompson; four daughters, Paulette D. Pearson, Constance D. Howze, Lynndell M. Brown and Angela R. Thompson (Darlene C. Thompson preceded her in death); son, Lorenzo R. Thompson (Frederick D. Thompson preceded her in death); Shayna T. Thompson, her eldest grandchild whom she raised as her own, brother, Jacob Macer of Eldorado, Maryland (she was receded in death by Thomas Macer, Ida Mae Macer, Stella Macer, Margie Bowens, Bessie Dennis and Joseph Macer), twenty-six grandchildren, twenty-one great-grandchildren, nieces, nephews, cousins, a host of other relatives and friends.

“ *I am my mommy's nee-baby, the spitting image of my momma, and when the days were done, my momma was still my best friend and biggest fan.. I will continue to love, praise, cherish, adore, delight in her adoring and abundant comfort.. she shared soo much of her love to soo many..sent her timbers up to all who needed them, helped everyone in her daily walk with God's guidance..she will ALWAYS BE LOVED, REMEMBERED, RESPECTED, BUT NEVER FORGOTTEN..and for that, I thank God for creating me to follow in His and her footsteps..to lift up His name and to help,comfort and be there for any and everybody who may need me as I daily walk,talk and spread God's love, mercy, and prayers....I LOVE YOU MOMMA...THEN, NOW AND ALWAYS..Your Nee-Baby..Lynndell "Queenie"Thompson-Mitchell-Brown...FOREVER AND IN A DAY.. “ Momma, a name I knew briefly, you were a dear soul. I learned love from you in a world of uncertainty and confusion. I found comfort in your voice and wisdom. I miss you each day that I think I’m not worthy and don’t want to face this world. I love you, love Noel ❤️

“ Please accept my condolences for the loss of your loved one. Acts 24:15 lovingly declares: "There is going to be a resurrection." May you receive much comfort and strength from this wonderful hope of the resurrection found in the Bible.##imported-begin##Sharon Hill##imported-end##

“ I extend to you my most heart felt sympathy in the passing of your mother. She was a woman of many gift and talents, all endowed by God. God decided to call your mother into his eternal rest. There one extreme comfort in this matter: Eliza Lucille Thompson knew God and his Jesus in a most personal way!##imported-begin##Antonio Adams##imported-end##
