

Elizabeth Wigfall

March 26, 1931 - June 1, 2008

ELIZABETH "ELIZA" WIGFALL, daughter of the late Eliza and Isom Holley, was born on March 26, 1931, the youngest of sixteen children in Fairfield County, South Carolina. On Sunday, June 1, 2008 God called her home from labor to rest after a very lengthy illness. Elizabeth Wigfall received her education in Fairfield County, South Carolina. She gave her life to Christ at an early age. Liz, as she was affectionately known, was a domestic worker her entire life. She married the late Mr. Edward Foster and from this union four children were born. Liz later married Mr. Willie J. Wigfall whom she adored. Together they resided in Atlanta, Georgia for several years; where she continued working until she retired as Supervisor at the Ritz Carlton Hotel. Liz was a fun-loving woman who made numerous friends. She loved to cook, shop, play cards, listen to music, and talk with family members on a daily basis, but not before her soap operas were off. She leaves to cherish her loving memory: her husband, Willie J. Wigfall; five children, Mary (Jimmie) Baker, Nancy Gilmer, James Foster, Robert (Michelle) Foster and Andrea Wigfall; a devoted and loving brother, Blake (Rebecca) Holley; ten grandchildren, Juanita Foster, Tinnett Gilmer, Clifton Grays, Jr., Robert Foster, Jr., Lamell Foster, Christine Gilmer, Edward Gilmer, Jasmine Foster, Mia Foster and Maya Foster; thirteen great-grandchildren; an adopted daughter, Celestia Drake; and a host of nieces, nephews, relatives and friends.
