“ Mama you will truly be missed from the way you would sit back in your chair with your hands over your stomach and laugh at our jokes to the times you would put people in there place for showing off. I will miss the make collard greens in the sink and you would always give me taste test. I love the way you kept the family together no matter what was going on. The most chanlenging time for me was watching you suffer with your sickness but even through that you found away to make us smile.
