

Elverta L. Brown

September 16, 1917 - August 18, 2005

Elverta L. Brown, daughter of the late James and Courtney Somerville, was born on September 16, 1917 in Littleton, North Carolina. She departed this life on August 18, 2005. She was preceded in death by her husband, McKinley Brown and her son, Spencer Carter, Jr. She worked as a seamstress for many years and took great pride in the work of her hands. Elverta was a proud member of the New Shiloh Baptist Church. She was devoted to her church and spoke highly of her pastor, Dr. Harold A. Carter. She enjoyed attending the services and was glad to be a part of this family of God. We can remember her talking about her favorite song, "I've Been Redeemed," and we're thankful to God that today, she is free. She leaves to cherish her memory: one loving sister, Pattie Downing of Baltimore; daughter-in-law, Sarah Carter; two granddaughters, Adrienne V. Carter and Veronica P. Carter-Hilton (Kenneth H. Hilton, Husband) all of Chesapeake, Virginia; one grandson, Victor Carter of Maryland; two great grandsons, Cornileous M. Carter and George N. Cuffee, Jr. of Chesapeake, Virginia; one great granddaughter, Aniya F. Hilton, also of Chesapeake, Virginia; six nieces; six nephews; two nephews; a longtime family friend, Willie M. Diggs (Bunch); a host of great nieces and nephews and family and friends.

“ I would like to express my condolence to the family of Mrs. Eleverta L. Brown: Death is a time of sorrow for all a time to cry and a time of remembrance at John 11:11, 14-44 it speaks of Jesus Christ losing a close friend how he must have felt sad but he felt for Lazarus sisters as well, Jesus said to Martha I am the resurrection and the life. What did Jesus mean? Next he tells Lazarus to come on out in a loud voice and Lazarus come out he was bound with wrapping and his countenance was bound about with a cloth. Jesus said to them: Lose Lazarus and let him go. Imagine how happy his family and friend must have felt to see Lazarus right here on earth again. The bible holds out this promise for your family because at John 5:28,29 Jehovah God and Jesus Christ tell us do not marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice {Jesus Christ} and come out. Act 24:15 tells us I have hope toward God [Jehovah God] that there is going to be a resurrection of both the righteous and the unrighteous. So allways look to Jehovah God and Jesus Christ for the comfort and hope that is brought out at John 17:3. My Deepest sorrow Shirel Halstead.##imported-begin##Shirel Halstead##imported-end##
