

Emma Banks

February 5, 2014

EMMA LEAN BANKS, affectionately known as "Honey", was the daughter of the late Charlie and Rachel Highsmith and was born in Robbinsonville, North Carolina on September 2, 1934. She was called home February 5, 2014 in Charlotte, North Carolina.

In 1954, after receiving her license in Cosmetology, she relocated to Brooklyn, New York and worked independently as a Beautician for over 60 years. She had a faithful customer base that extended over generations within many families throughout New York. She remained in Brooklyn until her health began to fail.

She was happily married to the late Harry Cook Banks, Sr. who preceded her in death in 1990. Out of this loving union was born one son, Christopher D. Banks, Sr and one daughter, Natasha D. Banks-Jones.

She leaves to cherish her loss: two sons, Harry C. Banks, Jr. (Lorraine) of Lombard, Illinois and Christopher D. Banks, Sr. of East Brunswick, New Jersey; one daughter, Natasha D. Banks-Jones (Preston) of Charlotte, North Carolina; one sister, Lula Mae Terry of Baltimore, Maryland; two brothers, Glen E. Highsmith (Rosa) of Bethel, Connecticut and James E. Highsmith (Ada) of Virginia Beach, Virginia; six grandsons, Harry III "TJ", Ceasar, Christopher Jr. (Lil Chris), Brandon, Sean, and Chayce; one granddaughter,

Kayla; nieces, nephews, and a host of family and friends

“ Please accept my condolences for the loss of your dear loved one. The Bible gives a real hope of being reunited with our loved ones who have passed away. Acts 24:15 lovingly declares "There is going to be a resurrection." May you receive much comfort and strength from this wonderful resurrection hope.
