

Eric Jacques Wilburn

May 19, 1959 - December 13, 2002

Eric J. Wilburn a.k.a. Armondo, our Gentle Giant was the son of the late Eleanor and Joseph Woodland. He departed this earthly life on December 13, 2002. Eric received his education in the Baltimore City Public School System. After graduation from Northwestern High School he attended the Baltimore School of Culinary Arts. Eric worked as a chef at Pimlico Race Track. He was a comedian and was also co-owner of the Comedy Factory Outlet. His most recent employment was at Pimlico Loan as a Broker. In 1992, Eric married Aurelia Williams. From this union their daughter, Arynne, was born. Eric leaves to mourn: his wife, Aurelia; a loving daughter, Arynne; sisters, Agnes Handy, Jessica, Tamara and Andrea Howard; brother, Michael Loring; mother-in-law, Sandra Williams; and a host of other relatives and friends.

“ Ive been performing Comedy professionally for 9 years this March. 'Armando' and Aurelia were the first Club in the Country to have me as a Headliner. I owe my career to these 2 people. A guestbook message is not enough of what I can say about this great man. My prayers have always been with yall...Armando, I love you man...and you will be missed...GOD will you be missed##imported-begin##GRIFF##imported-end##

“ When I sit back and ask myself, "Who are some of the TRULY beautiful people I've encountered in my life?" I would have to say that Armondo and Aurelia Wilburn are right up there on the list. In a business filled with complete incompetence, it is nice to come to a club where the people that run it, REALLY have a love for it and REALLY make you feel like a guest in their house. Armondo IS and always will be a sweet and loving soul. I guess the Friar's Club in Heaven needed a new headliner. My prayers and love go out to Aurelia and the entire family in their time of loss. Let the Fun and memorable times Armondo has shared with you, heal you on the way.##imported-begin##Paul Bond##imported-end##

“ Deepest heartfelt sympathies go from my family and I to Aurelia and her family at Armando's passing. All our prayers and love go out to you. With Armando gone, there is a little less laughter now when the world needs it most of all. I will always remember him and smile.##imported-begin##Mac McClellan##imported-end##

“ Wow...this passing has struck me and my new wife with MUCH sorrow! During the winter of '93, I had my first opportunity to meet and work with the Brother we knew on Earth as "Armondo". I was coming off a very bad break-up with my then fiancée, and Armondo made me see the light at the end of the tunnel! He gave me inner strength to just keep moving on. That advice made my very 1st weekend performing at the "Comedy Factory" a SPECIAL one; one that helped set my life on a new course. Just this past October, I had the privilege...the HONOR... to work with Armondo again at the Factory. Although he didn't look too well, he still gave a fantastic performance! Even when ill, he was a consummate entertainer! I wish, THEN, that I had a chance to tell him how much I looked up to him and respected and loved him...but in my heart, I think he always knew! We will DEARLY miss you, My Brother! Much love and prayers to your family...may God keep them strong!!###imported-begin##Quentin and Adrienne Hegg###imported-end##

“ As hard as it may be to accept, today was a celebration of life and gave us all time to reflect and be thankful for having Armondo in our life. He was able to touch countless people through his comedy and he will be sorely missed. Take time to grieve but also, take time to be thankful for having Armondo in our lives.##imported-begin##Rob Reibold##imported-end##
