“ ~The Broken Chain

*We little knew the day that
God was going to call your name.
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.*

*It broke our hearts to lose you
But you didn't go alone.
For part of us went with you
The day God called you home.*

*You left us peaceful memories.
Your love is still our guide,
And though we cannot see you
You are always at our side.*

*Our family chain is broken and nothing seems the same,
but as God calls us one by one
the chain will link again.*

~Ron Tranmer

This poem was chosen as a representation of our family chain's missing links. I was sad to here that my uncle has passed, but my heart rejoiced believing that he was now able to hangout with his younger brother, Joe.

I may not be physically present during my family's time of sorrow, but I know his only sister (my mother), Phyllis will make certain that my prayers and hugs will be shared with all those whose lives were touch in one form or another by mu uncle Erskin.

Love,

Your niece, Patrice Bynum and family in Charlotte, NC.
