“ To the family, I offer my sincere sympathy. At times like these it may seem that there is no source of comfort. No source of relief from your sorrow. I have been able to find comfort in God's word, The Bible. I have found comfort from the wonderful hope expressed at Acts 24:15 and the promise made at John 5:28, 29. May these serve as a source of comfort for you.##imported-begin##Gwen Winston##imported-end##

“ I offer my deepest condolences to the family at this most difficult time. Although I don't personally know the family, God's promises are universal; the wonderful promises of a peaceful new world, and a resurrection from the dead for our loved ones. 2nd Peter 3:13 promises: "But there are new heavens and a new earth in which we are awaiting, and in these righteousness is to dwell." Daniel 12,2 lovingly promises that there will be many of those who are asleep in the dust who will wake up. The dead are not forgotten by God, and only he has the power to restore their life back to them. Psalm 68:20 lovingly tells us: "The true God is for us a God of saving acts, and to the Sovereign Lord Jehovah belongs the ways out from death." One day all sorrow will be past, and the earth will be filled with peace at last. Their will be no more sorrow, no more sickness, and no more death. Isaiah 33:24, Isaiah 25:8 May the peace of God fill your hearts, and may the comfort from the scriptures help you to cope at this time.###imported-begin##R Johnson###imported-end##
