

Eugene Scott

February 7, 1951 - December 1, 2008

Eugene Scott, Jr., known affectionately as "Boo", was born February 7, 1951 to the late Thelma Haskins and Eugene Scott, Sr. in Richmond, Virginia. He attended Richmond public schools and graduated from John F. Kennedy High School. After completing high school he attended Morgan State University in Maryland. At the age of twenty, Eugene entered the United States Coast Guard where he served as a firefighter. Eugene, who was injured while serving a tour in Vietnam, was proud of his service to his country. He was last employed at Philip Morris, USA as a machine operator. When his military injury made it difficult for him to continue to work, he retired after thirty-one years of service. Eugene loved the water and all things related to it (swimming, scuba diving or just watching ships as they sailed in and out). He loved being the "know" about different topics, especially current events. He loved traveling, sightseeing and exploring unfamiliar places. Eugene was a warm, generous and fun-loving person. His zest for life and exuberant personality touched all who came in contact with him. He loved to make people laugh, and he loved life. Most of all he loved his sons. Eugene leaves to cherish his memories his sons, Latrell Scott and wife, Brandi, and Dexter Bush-Scott; sister, Blanche Logan; brother Michael Gerald Lee; a devoted uncle, Daniel Scott; devoted friends, Michael Dobson and Rodney Roane and a host of other relatives and friends. Eugene will sorely be missed by all who knew and loved him.
