

Eve Ethel Levrone

December 31, 1932 - January 29, 2002

Eve Ethel Demby was born on December 31, 1932, New Year's Eve to the late Wilmore Alexander Debby and Mae Nevella Franklin. She was the third of nine siblings; five brothers and three sisters. She was preceded in death by brother, David Wilmore Demby and sister, Victoria Nevella Debby. They lived in Pinehurst, Pasadena, Maryland. They were a very loving, close family who spent a lot of quality time together and still do to this day. They lovingly nicknamed her "Beaver." She received her education in the Anne Arundel County School System. On August 16, 1952, Eve was united in marriage to the late James Daniel Levrone, Sr. at the home of his sister, Emma and James Foster. From this union six children were born two boys and four girls. James was a kind man, very patient. He made a good match for Eve, who was a very energetic person. She never drove, but was always doing something and going somewhere. She was the spice in his life and he adored her. She mothered many, even her own children, grandchildren, sisters, brothers, nieces and nephews. They always wanted to come to Aunt Eve's house to eat, play and just are close as a family. Aunt Eve's house was central headquarters for many family picnics. Her brothers and sisters formed a special spiritual singing group called the Open Heart Singers, and the host house for rehearsals was Eve's. Glad she lived in the woods, we always made a lot of noise. She supported the group, but knew she could not sing, so she fed us all and tried to keep peace and tried to keep them all together. She loved to dance and have a good time. She enjoyed cruises. No one jumped up higher when the Electric Slide came on than Eve. She would call everyone to join her on the dance floor, but she was always ten feet in front of you. Dressing up was another favorite thing to do. She had the most clothes of everyone on the cruises and wore them well. Every event was a fashion show. For Eve everything had to match; shoes, earring, nails and purse. She enjoyed life. Her energy, beautiful smile and presence will live on in all of us forever. She will be missed. She touched everyone she met, and it's evident by the loving support in this poem. James and Eve dedicated themselves to serving Jehovah over twenty-one years ago, and gained over 61 million new friends worldwide. During her illness, she remained faithful and kept her integrity to Jehovah. Even though she could not physically attend the Kingdom Hall, the elders and brothers made sure she was tied in by speakerphone to make her meetings every Wednesday and Sunday. She never missed the services. She was lovingly given the name Sister Cook by her new friends because she made the best potato salad and pretzel salad. Eve became ill two years ago with cancer. Myra James helped her find good doctors to help her through her illness. She lost the battle on January 29, 2002 at 7:00 p.m. At her home with her children. Eve leaves to mourn: four daughters, Sharon M. Levrone-Smith, Tanya L. Levrone Colbert, Gwendolyn O. Levrone Simmons and Deadra L. Levrone; two sons, Jourdan Levrone and James Daniel Levrone, Jr., seven grandchildren, Deon Marie Marshall, Dana Marshall, Scotty Marshall, Bruce Colbert, Jr., Alexander Colbert, Jeffrey Simmons, Jr., and Jonathan Simmons; two great-grandchildren, David Waire and Devin Waire; two sons-in-law, Ronald James and Jeffrey W. Simmons; two sisters, Madline Braggs and Lavern E. Gaither; four brothers, Charles Demby, Ernest E. Demby, Samuel Demby and James P. Demby, Sr.; one goddaughter, Geraldine Osborne; seven sisters-in-law, two brothers-in-law, a host of nieces, nephews and many, many friends.
