*To Elizabeth's daughters,
Angela, Karen, Ava, Sharon and Family*

There is a great void in one's life after the passing of a mother. Until you have suffered the loss of a mother, one cannot fully understand the grief and pain of separation. May the love that surrounds you and your memories be a source of comfort to all. Know that friends are thinking of you and are here for you in your time of bereavement.

I will never forget Elizabeth and the warm friendship we shared for over forty years as best friends. The memories of laughter, hanging out, and being there for each other, and oh yes, playing bid whisk all night while talking trash; those are good memories that I will always cherish.

I know how greatly she loved her girls and the many sacrifices she made for the four of you. She held the four of you in high esteem and bragged about you all the time. That's how proud she was of you. A mother's love is like none other.

Giving up Elizabeth to the Lord is like giving up a part of one's self; but I also remember Elizabeth always saying, "God is in Control". May those good memories and the love she gave and shared and showed, lessen your pain.

It hurts me deeply to lose such a friend. Know that I share your sorrow and you have my deepest sympathy.

I love all of you!

*Sincerely
Doris Davis

“ Please accept my deepest condolences for the loss of Mrs Barnett. One day soon God promises an end to all sickness, violence, poverty, wars, crime, and all death. I know these things, because I am a Bible teacher and have studied the Bible for over thirty years. Through my studies I have learned that there is a better life just ahead. I've learned that it never was God's original purPose For anyone To get sick, get old, or die. When he sent us his son, he came so that we could have life and have it in abundance. John 10:10. He performed the miricles of bringing three people back to life. you can read of the ressurection of a little girl at Mark 5:38-43. He thus showed us what he is going to do in the near future by ressurecting millions back to life. John 5:28,29 says: Donot marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out; those who did good things to a ressurection of life. May this hope strengthen you and help you to cope in the days ahead.
