

Florence Taylor Banks

January 19, 1918 - May 19, 2018

Florence Taylor Banks went home to be with God on May 19, 2018. She was born in Richmond, VA on January 19, 1918 to the late Hunter and Bertha Dandridge Taylor. She was preceded in death by her parents, sisters, Vivian Taylor Stevens and Bernice Taylor, and her of husband of 68 years, Kemper Banks.

She leaves behind to treasure her memory daughter, Gwendolyn Banks Dorman (George); granddaughter, Andrea Nash Wright (Lawrence); great-grandson, Alexander Banks Wright; great-granddaughter, Lauren Ariel Wright; and a host of relatives and friends.

Florence accepted Christ at an early age and was educated in Richmond Public Schools, graduating from Armstrong High School in 1936. She worked at Jefferson Clothing and DMV before her retirement.

Florence loved to garden and, a firm believer in not having an idol mind, she regularly did word search puzzles to keep her mind active. She loved her family and friends and before her health failed, could always whip up a good meal for all, which typically included homemade hot rolls. She loved to laugh and could always find the positive in any situation. The wit and charm she embodied in her younger years remained a part of her personality until her last days and she will truly be missed by all.

This is not goodbye, for I will see you again someday.
This is not the end, for on to Glory I have gone to stay.
This is not a time to weep, because I have been blessed,
And I have earned my wings after giving my best.
So, smile, rejoice, and let love get you through,
And know that God has my soul and he watches over you.
