

Frances Virginia Hughes-Jenkins

April 25, 1922 - December 17, 2017

FRANCES VIRGINIA JENKINS, eldest sister of twelve children born to the late James and Grace Hughes, was born on April 25, 1922 in Baltimore, Maryland. After a lengthy illness, she departed this life on December 17, 2017 at Keswick Nursing Home.

She received her education in the Baltimore City Public School System and graduated from Douglass High School. Although Frances did not receive formal academic training, throughout the culinary community she was one fabulous cook/chef. Being very well organized and clean was mandatory. For a woman to be so gifted, she remained disciplined while sampling or just enjoying a meal. She had stellar techniques when it came to food preparation.

Frances Virginia Hughes united with the loving and devoted Earl Chester Jenkins Sr. He was a devoted family man to Thomas, Gloria, Mary, Denise, and Earl Jr.

Although Frances did not have a permanent church family, she believed very strongly in God and church was always in her heart.

A very private, quiet woman, Frances loved her family and strongly believed in silently helping others. She enjoyed watching a variety of cooking shows, news broadcasts and talk shows. She took pleasure in volunteering with other seniors, collecting her adorable teddy bears and listening to music genres of her generation and beyond.

She always took pride in being the eldest sister and the “V” in her middle name, Virginia. She took her role as eldest sister very seriously. After a visit from her baby sister years earlier, she prepared little sister, Gertrude Lipscomb to exit by making sure that her coat, hat, gloves and scarf were placed securely so that she could remain warm when going outside. This was a little under 10 years ago before her health began to decline.

She is at peace now and leaves to cherish: her daughter, Denise Jenkins; loving, precious little sister, Gertrude Lipscomb; grandson, Keon T.

Jenkins; great-granddaughter, Tierra Hill; great-great grandson, Tarian Cooper; and a host of many grandchildren, great-grandchildren, nieces, nephews, cousins, other relatives and friends.
