She graduated from Russell Grove High School in Virginia. After graduation she returned to Baltimore where she resided with her sister Lillian Goodie and brother-in-law Chester Goodie at 1927 Aisquith Street. Frances gave her life to the lord in 1938 at the Leadenhall Baptist Church. There she served for many years as the secretary of the W.A.R.E. Life line ministry. She remained a faithful member until her death. She loved her Leadenhall family and looked forward to her church family coming to visit for prayer and serve communion. When she was no longer physically able to attend church services, she enjoyed watching several different television ministries. She was also was an excellent cook. You could always go to her house for a home cooked meal. Chitterlings, pig feet, potato salad, collard greens and a slice of homemade pound cake. You could smell the food as soon as you got to the gate. She would often call and say come on over and bring a pot and she would fill it with whatever delicious creation she cooked that day.

Those who grieve but yet rejoice in her transformation included her extended family devoted niece and caregiver, Wanda L. Kimball; nephews Rodney D. Kimball; Charles L.
