

Francine Brown Williams

December 21, 1954 - October 17, 2011

FRANCINE BROWN WILLIAMS, affectionately known to family and friends as Frankie, born on December 21, 1954 in Baltimore, Maryland. She was called , after battling a lengthy illness, on October 17, 2011

Frankie was a loving, caring and high-spirited, family-oriented woman. She received her education in Baltimore City School System. Later she found a passion for helping others and became a certified nurses' assistant. Frankie continued this for years but later this to begin placing other assistance in employment positions.

Frankie has a love for making clothes. She enjoyed sewing, almost as much as she loved music. But her greatest passion was family, especially the children. Whenever it came to family, she was there she surrounded herself with the people she loved.

Although she was dealing with her illness for many years, it did not get her down. Even through her toughest days and sleepless nights, she could find a smile for someone else. If you didn't know what she was going through, she wasn't about to burden you with her problems. She maintained such strength, courage and dignity through her long ordeal.

Francine's parents, Doretha Davis and William Brown, preceded her in death.

Frankie leaves to mourn:

her husband, Thomas Williams; her aunt Peggy Chisolm (who has also been a mother figure); her aunt, Claudia and uncle, James Brothers; godson, Anthony Rodgers; and first cousins, Gerald, Diane, Winston, Valerie, George Jr., Aretha and Gloria. She also leaves a host of other relatives and friends.

“ I'm so sorry for your loss and would like to offer my condolences to your family. Death is such a terrible thing for a family to go through, I actually lost my mom about 3yrs ago. I'm truly grateful that I have the truth about death and look forward to the future when there will be a resurrection of both the righteous and the unrighteous.”— ACTS 24:15. I'm sure you would love to see your dead loved one again in the coming Paradise here on earth! Again so sorry for your loss!!
