

Frederick Gamble

August 25, 1958 - July 4, 2018

Frederick Jesus Jerome Gamble was born August 25, 1958 to the late Ethel McMillan and Ricky Gamble in Baltimore, Md. He received his education in the Baltimore City School System. Bo Bo as he was affectionately known, fell in love with Darlene Wyche- Scarborough, the mother of his first child, Nichol, and shortly after he enlisted in the Army Reserves.

On his birthday in 1989, he married Pamela Days. Out of this union came his only son Jarraun. Bo Bo was well known and loved by many all over Baltimore, especially in the Abbottston Community where he grew up. He was known for his beautiful singing voice and was often called “ The man with the golden voice”. Bo Bo was a devoted member of the soulful group, “crosswind” since the early 1980's. The group received a citation from Baltimore City Mayor Kurt Schmoke at the grand opening of Mondawmin Mall Subway Station. They had 2 sold out shows earlier this year. Whenever you saw Bo Bo you know his best friend/ life partner of 26 years Wanda wasn't far behind. They did everything together.

Bo Bo leaves to cherish all his wonderful memories: Daughters Nichol Gamble- Davis (Tyrone) and Lakeia Funderburk (Mannie); sons: Jarraun Gamble, John Anderson (Temonio) and Patricia Days, One sister Shirley Brooks of Suitland, MD, one brother Malachia Ward Sr. (Ernestine) of North Carolina ; Granddaughters Jada, Jade, Akira and Sequoia; grandsons Jordan,
