“ To the family and friends, I offer my condolences. It truly is unfortunate that we must experience the sorrow associated with the loss of one we love. May you find comfort and strength from the "God of all comfort" (2 Corinthians 1:3,4 ) who promises at Isaiah 66:13, "Like a man whom his own mother keeps comforting, so I myself shall keep comforting you people."###imported-begin##Gwen Winston###imported-end##

“ I send my condolences to you all at this time. The death of a loved one is a most difficult thing to come to terms with, and it leaves a void in the family circle. I would like to share some comforting words with you from the bible. The bible holds out a wonderful hope for the dead; the hope of the resurrection. Acts 24:15 says, "And I have hope towards God that there is going to be a resurrection of both the righteous and the unrighteous." Everyone who has died will have an opportunity to live again in peaceful and secure conditions. If we are obedient and faithful we will see our loved ones come back to life again.###imported-begin##R Johnson###imported-end##
