

Geneva Womack

April 15, 1951 - January 5, 2002

Geneva Womack-Morgan, daughter of the late James and Alice Womack, was born on April 15, 1951 in Halifax, Virginia. She departed this life on January 5, 2002, after a short illness. She received her education at Yanceyville High School in North Carolina. She entered Job Corps and completed her training in 1968. She was a born again Christian and faithful member of the Baltimore Tabernacle of Prayer under the leadership of Bishop Nathaniel Edwards. She was a loving mother, sister, aunt and friend. Everyone who knew and loved her will sincerely miss her. She raised her niece and nephew as her own. She leaves to mourn: her husband, John Morgan; three sons, Michael Womack of New York, Perry Womack and Leo Womack; one daughter, Elizabeth Womack; one brother, Raymond Womack; three sisters, Ann Womack, Dale Womack and Nadine Manley; sister-in-law, Shelly Womack; brother-in-law, John Manley; two great-aunts, one great-uncle, two aunts, nieces, nephews, a host of other relatives and friends. TODAY I AWOKE Today I awoke to find you still gone, Today I awoke to the words of a song, Today I awoke to all that I hear, Today I awoke to find you are still near. For yesterdays are gone, And tomorrows will follow the night, But the memories I'll treasure With knowing you are all right. For today I truly awoke- it wasn't hard For I've learned how to take everything to God. We Love You, Geneva. The Family
