

George L. Pettis, Jr.

February 19, 1967 - August 28, 2017

GEORGE LEROY PETTIS, JR was born on February 19, 1967, in Baltimore, Maryland the son of the late George L. Pettis, Sr. and Frankie T. Pettis. He departed his earthy life suddenly on August 28, 2017, to be with the Eternal Father.

Throughout his life, George maintained a positive attitude and outlook he always saw the brighter side of every situation, even as he endured his most challenging moments, he was a devoted son, a loving brother, a dedicated father, and a trusted friend, George had a wonderful bond of love and close friendship with his only sibling, his sister, Erica. He enjoyed sharing laughs with his mother, even more so after his dad passed. Some of his most cherished moments were the birthdays and holidays they all spent together. He always looked forward to spending time with his family and enjoying his mother's Southern style home-cooking. His nephews affectionately called him Uncle G.

George received his education in Baltimore and attended Baltimore and attended Baltimore City College. And graduated in the class of 1985. He went on to study management at Morgan State University.

George was a true believer of making the most of his life. And making the most of his work. He was caring and gregarious, which made him a perfect fit for the jobs in the customer service and financial services industries where he worked. His first job was at Phillips Restaurant in downtown Baltimore; afterward he worked at Maryland National Bank Sprint and Verizon. He later moved to Washington, D.C., where he worked for the D.C. Government in the Department of Human Services at Taylor Street Service Center. George was a fighter to the end, who managed to deal with personal health issues while staying dedicated to his work.

George had a quiet and easy-going spirit, sharp sense of humor. However, he was never one to shy away from conscious-provoking conversations centered around current social and political issues. He was a fashionable gentleman who wore a bow-tie like it was, indeed, a part of him. George enjoyed going to the movies, watching TV. And attending concerts, One of his favorite Singers is Mary J. Blige, who admired for her talents and the truthfulness that resounded in her songs.

George attended church at an early accompanying his grandmother. The late Gladys M. Pettis to St. Paul Baptist Church; and as he became an adult he received Jesus Christ as his as his personal savior and talked often with heartfelt emotion about the many blessings God had given him. George is survived by his mother, Frankie T. Pettis ; his sister, Erica (Rico Aparentado), his son, Ryan his nephew; Jaelen Bryant ; aunts, Marion Pettis, Nellie Pettis, Georgine Jackson. And Evelyn Thomas; and uncles Lawrence Pettis and James Thomas (Bernadine); and very special, devoted friends Andrea Reid and Cheryl Rhames. He also leaves to mourn a host of loving cousins, relatives, friends, and coworkers.
