“ *Your life was characterized by your care of others,
They say you filled in for many mothers,
You carried your nephews and your niece,
You've earned the right to rest in peace,
Your house is filled with so many babies,
I count several young men and several young ladies,
And lest we forget my mother too,
And the gentle nature she acquired from you,
You both raised me with such care,
It makes this loss so hard to bare,
You've earned your spot in heaven, and yet,
You'll continue to watch over this family I bet,*
