

Georgine Bertina Patterson

October 14, 1939 - June 29, 2015

Georgine Bertina Patterson was born on October 14, 1939, the fourth child of George L. Stanley II and Violet Henrietta Stanley, in Baltimore, Maryland. Georgine, Jeanie to her friends and relatives, was educated in the Baltimore City Public School System, graduating from Paul Laurence Dunbar Senior High School. She attended Towson State University and Morgan State University.

As a child she attended and was confirmed at St. Philip's Lutheran Church where she was a long time member until her death. At St. Philip's, Georgine served in many of the church's activities: Sunday School, Vacation Bible School, a member of the Ladies Aide, Council member, Church Council President, and many other church ministries. She loved, trusted, and had faith in the Lord!

Georgine was married to the late Edward J. Patterson. From this union, three children were born. While raising her family, Georgine was employed at the Social Security Administration for over thirty-five years until her retirement in January, 2000.

Georgine (Jeanie) was an avid shopper, a lover of shoes, enjoyed listening to great 60's and 70's music and never wanted to let anything go. Cooking for her friends and family was one of her greatest passions. She enjoyed cooking from scratch — rice pudding, mashed potatoes with a dash of ashes, Christmas cookies and the best homemade chili. Jeanie was a wonderful mother, grandmother, aunt, sister and always made herself available to give advice and life lessons. If you needed a shoulder to cry on, Jeanie was always there to lend an ear, great advice with, "What can I say" and have a supporting and nurturing spirit. She loved her family unconditionally. Georgine was an extremely proud woman that was able to save a penny in order to create a better life for her family. She was a proud homeowner and purchased her only home on East 36th Street in Baltimore, Maryland. Jeanie was known for claiming her prized possession by stating "This is my damn house".

Georgine was preceded in death by her father, George L. Stanley, II; mother, Violet H. Stanley, and sister Leona Stanley Jefferson.

She leaves to cherish her memory: three children, daughter, Cynthia K.

Patterson (Kurl) and two sons, Ira E. Patterson Sr. and Jeffrey S. Patterson Sr. (Leilani); grandchildren, Natisha Ferguson, Thaisha Johnson, Tammy Patterson, Marcus Johnson (Kamilya), Ira Patterson Jr., Jeffrey Patterson Jr., Janae Patterson-Beck, Devin Patterson, Jazmin Patterson, Justice Patterson, Jaylon Patterson, and Manava Pedro (Patterson); three great-grandchildren, Marcus Johnson Jr., Mason Johnson and Maarli (due to arrive any day); two sisters, Florence Boone and Rosetta "Rosie" Cephas; four brothers, George L. Stanley III, John Stanley, Charles "Chuck" Stanley and James "Jimmy" Stanley; four sisters-in-law, Hazel Stanley, Ernestine Stanley, Merle Stanley, and Sandra Stanley; several godchildren, many nieces, nephews, cousins, other relatives and friends.

“ As a young child I lived in the Douglass Homes and my fondest memory is of Georgine who was like a big sister to me . . . I was happiest when I was in her company. We moved when I was 7 and I didn't see Georgine again until I was in my mid 30s but we immediately recognized each other and had a great time reminiscing about our childhood. There's an African proverb that says "A man never dies as long as someone is alive to call his name." I hope that you will keep Georgine alive in your hearts forever.
