

Gladys M. Beverly

April 10, 1927 - January 20, 2002

Gladys M. Beverly, daughter of the late Eva and George Beverly, was born on April 10, 1927, in Baltimore, Maryland. She departed this life peacefully on January 20, 2002. She received her early education in the Baltimore City Public Schools. She received her B.A. from Coppin State Teachers College and her M.A., from New York University as an Education Major. Gladys taught in Baltimore City Elementary Schools for 27 years, until she retired in 1976. Gladys loved to travel. She had been around the world twice and had visited numerous cities in the U.S. and Canada. She was a collector of many things and in doing so, absorbed so much knowledge. Gladys was a loving sister and friend. She was humorous, critical, demanded respect and was willing to help if she could. She always wanted you to put your best effort forward. Gladys had many friends and relatives that will sincerely miss her; especially her friend Florence. She leaves to mourn her two sisters, Angela Cooper and Margaret Beverly, nieces, nephews, a host of other relatives and friends.

DARK TESTAMENT
Hope is a song in a weary throat, Oh give me
song of hope and a world where I can sing it, Give me a song of faith and a people to believe in it, Give me a song of kindness, and a country where I can live it,
Oh, give me a song of hope and love, O, hold out your hand; hold out you hand friend and brother to every man.
