

Gladys Marie Jones

August 29, 1910 - July 17, 2003

On Thursday, July 17, 2003, Gladys Marie Jones responded to her Savior's call and entered into eternity. Gladys Marie Jones was born to the late Moses and Suzie Spencer Nappier on August 29, 1910 in Richmond, Virginia. She was one of thirteen children. She was married to the late Alvin Jones and from this union had seventeen children. Gladys was educated in the Richmond, Virginia Public School System. She was a committed homemaker and conscientious day care provider. She was a school volunteer in the Easton Maryland Public School System and for Saint Cecilia's Parochial School. She was especially gifted in working with children and had a special sense of understanding their needs. She had been a member of the Howard Park Community Association and of the Baltimore Civic Democratic Club. She valued her civic duty to vote and in earlier years would often work at the election polls during elections. She was a member of The New All Saints Church until her death. Gladys was always pleasant and had a sense of humor. She enjoyed going to plays, concerts, attending church prayer meetings and occasionally going out to dinner. She was an avid reader and consistently read her Bible and other reading material to enhance her understanding of God's Word. Gladys was a strong woman with a quiet and meek spirit. Her legacy was for her loved ones to have a relationship with Christ as she did and to walk in the unity of him. She will be greatly missed by all that knew and loved her. Gladys Marie Jones leaves many seeds of love to cherish her memory: eight sons, Roosevelt, Wilbur, Leon, Vernon, Ronald,

Michael, Paul and Joseph; two sons, Alvin and Donald; who preceded her in death; seven daughters, Dorothy McCutcheon, Virginia Fisher, Shirley Jones, Gloria Gibson, Patricia Heidelberg, Vincentia and Ingrid Jones; sixty-five(65), 146 great grandchildren, 89 great great grandchildren and six great great great grandchildren, and a host of relatives and friends.
