A TIME TO BE BORN

Glennie Mae Brown made her debut to the world on March 19, 1933. She was born to Leah and Ellis Lowery and raised in Leland North Carolina. Glennie had three sisters: Gracie, Dorothy, and Eva; and three brothers: Ellis, Floyd, and Clarence.

A TIME TO LIVE

Glennie had many friends who loved her very much. She worked for the Department of Labor Licensing and Regulations where she received many certificates for her dedicated service for over 25 years. After retirement she worked at the Baltimore museum of art; as a greeter, and then became a professional sitter for her grandchildren. She was a dedicated volunteer at Ashburton Elementary/ Middle School doing whatever needed to be done. Nana loved to cook and did not want anyone in the kitchen while she cooked. She was always willing to help her family and friends in any way possible.

A TIME TO DIE

Glennie died on December 19, 2010 at Sinai Hospital. She was very private about her personal health and did not want to worry anyone about her lingering illness.

Grandchildren: Cassandra, Brittney, Conye, Carmari, and Chloe; Great Grandchildren: Casey and Caylin; Sisters: Gracie and Dorothy, and a host of “ Aunt Glennie will ALWAYS live in my heart, as long as I have known myself, I've known Aunt Glennie. When I was younger we were always happy when it was time to go to Baltimore, to be with our family. I will miss seeing and being able to call on the phone and surprise her. I remember when Aunt Glennie was teaching me and my wife the correct way to eat crabs, we had so much fun. Aunt Glennie Thanks for being you. Your Nephew Stephen M. Linen
