“ I still miss my Auntie. I miss coming to see you & hearing that laugh of yours. The other day, someone laughed and it sounded so much like you, that I turned around...knowing you weren't there, but somehow hoping that I would catch a glimpse of you. I miss you sooooo much and as always...thank you. Thank you for being there when we needed you. Thank you for teaching me to be a strong woman. Thank you for everything.

I miss you, Aunt Yvonne. <3

“ To my Aunt Yvonne, my Dear Aunt Yvonne: I miss you so much, I can't believe you are gone. Not here for me to call and hear you laugh, or to take in some of the wisdom you had. You always told me I was your heart,your boo, your "TWIN". When you left here my heart that was broken (when you weren't doing well) has now fallen into two. I became alone knowing I would not find another like you. You were what I knew and who I was. Now that you are gone I feel alone. My "TWIN" my FAMILY. I will continue to see you live in your sister (my MOM),my sister, myself, and your children; because we all have a part of you distributed between us that I will cherish the rest of my years. I LOVE YOU AND AM HONORED TO HAVE MET SUCH A CREATION FROM GOD! Here is my song: light of this world fill my heart, I've never been here before, light of this world fill my soul, I've never been here before, let me stay and rest in your holiness, my aunt is gone, I've never been here before. Love You TWIN, La Tonya###imported-begin###La Tonya M. Mc Dowell-Henry###imported-end##

“ Aunt Yvonne... Aunt Yvonne... There will never be words enough to express the pain in my heart from losing my Aunt Yvonne. I just can't believe that my Aunt is gone. I look at this picture in disbelief. I see my hair, my cousins Quinton & Tiffany's face and my mother's only family. I didn't expect this monumental loss, but Aunt Yvonne knew I loved her... for I made it my business to tell her every chance I got. I will always, always, always miss her. If she could hear me, I would say, once again, I love you & thank you.##imported-begin##Tanya M.-E.##imported-end##

“ To the family of Mrs. Ludd, please accept my heartfelt condolences. Death is truly a heartbreaking experience that we all have to bear with at present; but one day God promises to put an end to sickness and death and erase this pain from our lives forever. Isaiah 65:17 says, "For here I am creating new heavens and a new earth, and the former things will not be called to mind." Neither will they come up into the heart." Also the apostle Paul spoke about the promise from Jehovah God of bringing our loved ones back to life. He said at Acts 24:15, "And I have hope toward God that there is going to be a resurrection." How do we know that this resurrection will indeed take place? Because Isaiah 55:11 says that every word that goes forth from Jehovah's mouth will not return to him without results. So everything he promises will come true. One day we will see our dead loved ones again. What a joyful day that will be. Family, please find comfort from God's word, as well as the cherished memories you'll always carry in your heart. That's something death cannot take away from us. May you be comforted.##imported-begin##R Johnson##imported-end##
