

Gregory L. Barbour

March 20, 1959 - April 30, 2023

Gregory Leon Barbour was born on March 20, 1959, to the proud parents of Joseph Barbour and Evelyn Justice Barbour. He spent most of his childhood years growing up on Carswell Street, Baltimore MD, where he had many LIFELONG friends and was a graduate of Samuel Gompers High School (known as #298). He was also brought up in Faith Baptist Church where he was first introduced to Christ.

Following graduation, he remained in Baltimore where he worked various jobs, which included warehouse worker and cook. His great sense of humor brought much joy and laughter wherever he went. He was known for being one of the best dancers in the neighborhood. The biggest joy and addition to his life, the apple of his eye, was his loving daughter Lakisha Lameeka Barbour. On the day she was born, his heart grew three times larger. She also blessed him with a son-in-law, Samuel Thomas and beautiful granddaughter, Alise Miracle Hill. He was a very proud grandfather.

He established a close and personal relationship with God several years ago. When he lost his battle with illness, he was given his wings on 4/30/2023. He was preceded in death by his father and mother, four siblings: Linda Fay Barbour Fulton (James), Joseph Barbour Jr., Richard Earl Barbour and Brenda Barbour.

He leaves to cherish his memories, his daughter Lakisha Barbour Thomas (Sam) and granddaughter Alise of Norfolk, VA, three siblings: Johnnie Clarence Barbour of Baltimore, MD, Sylvia Barbour Miller of Atlanta, GA and Valerie Barbour Mayfield of Atlanta GA, three nieces, one nephew and a host of other relatives and friends.
