

Gwendolyn A. Moore

November 1, 1962 - October 6, 2018

Gwendolyn A. Moore, affectionately known to family and friends as Gwen was born on November 1, 1962. She was the only child of the union between the late Julia Moore and Gary Moore. Gwen's early years were spent in Baltimore, Maryland. She later attended Temple University in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where she obtained her undergraduate degree in sociology. While Gwen was a student at Temple University, she worked at a bookstore. She enjoyed this job very much because of her love of reading, particularly mystery novels. Her favorite author was Sue Grafton, who wrote the Kinsey Millhone Alphabet Mysteries; Gwen boasted that she had read this entire series, all the way from "A" is for Alibi to "Y" is for Yesterday. After Gwen completed college, she was employed for a time by Cigna Corporation and then later by the food company Conagra.

Gwen was a true Baltimore girl who loved her Maryland blue crabs and crab cakes. She spent many lovely hours with friends, cracking crabs on the waterfront, at Gunning's Seafood Restaurant, and at her home in Columbia, Maryland. She was also a hometown sports team fanatic, and on game days during football season, you would often find Gwen in her favorite Baltimore Ravens sweatshirt and other gear, waiting with excitement to cheer for her team.

Gwen loved animals and was the proud owner of dogs and cats at different seasons in her life. She first owned a small gray poodle named Princess, then later a mixed-breed dog named Missy, and finally a precious cat named Socks, who was her faithful companion in latter years of her life.

On Saturday, October 6, 2018, Gwen departed this life and went home to be with her Lord and Savior, Christ Jesus. To cherish her memory, she leaves her great-aunt Mary Martin; her great-uncle Robert Martin; her brother, Abraham Moore, brothers and sisters in Christ from City of Hope Presbyterian Church; her loyal friends Roz, Steph, Barb, and Rich; and her much-loved pet cat, Socks.

“ As teenagers, Gwen and I were best friends, really more like sisters. We lost touch when I got married and moved away, but I never forgot her and I came to appreciate her more as I missed having her in my life. I was hoping to find her and let her know these things, but instead, I find that she has passed on. She was a dear and loyal friend to me. My heartfelt condolences go out to those who loved and appreciated her.

Gwen was a very special person to both me and my sister Della. She was always at our house spending time with my sister and often laughing with us. She will be greatly missed. God bless Gwen.

“ We loved worshiping Jesus with Gwen at church. We had good times chatting about the Ravens. One of our dearest memories is how Gwen gave us the cutest shoes for our first baby.
