

HENRY KALU

April 19, 1949 - July 19, 2020

HENRY UCHE OCHE KALU WAS BORN IN PORT HARCOURT, WHERE HIS PARENTS LIVED. He later moved to Aba with his most senior sister, Mrs.Helen Ananaba Kalu and his most senior brother the late Chief Sonny Oche Kalu,after the Nigerian Civil War in early 70's.

Reconstruction and construction was one of the prime industries in the Eastern Nigeria after the civil war. Henry developed interest early in that industry and was eventually schooled in Architectural Draftsmanship, under the guide of his most senior brother the late Chief Sonny Oche Kalu who was popularly known as KKC in the construction industry, and owned CONE Konstruction Company in Aba then.

Henry later became an Architectural Draftsman for ONE Konstruction Company, designing homes and commercial building for CONE Konstruction and their growing clientele in then East Central State of Nigeria. The glaring concept of his work (drawing) earned him a name, Aka Bekee in the industry. Henry left Aba for Lagos in the late 80's in search of more. He moved in with his immediate senior brother, Chijioke Oche Kalu in Opebi Ikeja Lagos.

He later started and joined in the growing number of young men from the East that were importing tailoring materials from Hong Kong and Taiwan. His Entrepreneurial interest afforded him the opportunity of travelling to most of the Asian countries to source for cheap tailoring materials.

Business was very good, this he continued until Nigerian government placed tailoring materials under a very strict import licensing. This allowed the Indian conglomerates to take over tailoring materials importation into Nigeria.

As a result, Henry later moved to the USA where he settled, married, had four children and died from a protracted kidney related sickness
