“ I send my heartfelt condolences to the family at this time. At such sorrowful times turn to the father of tender mercies who comforts us during all of our tribulations. 2nd Cor 1:3,4 For eons of time people have been living and dying on this earth, but dear family soon exciting changes will take place on this earth. God never intended for us to die, and soon he promises that sickness and death will be a thing of the past. Adam and Eve brought this legacy of pain upon us, but soon through the precious blood of the Christ, that will no longer be the case, because 1st Cor 15:22 makes this heartwarming promise. "For just as in Adam all are dying, so also in the Christ all will be made alive." Very soon there will be peace on this earth, and the dead will be raised up to share in that peace and security. As Psalm 115:16 brings out, "To Jehovah the heavens belong, but the earth he has given to the sons of men." One day that paradise of peace he gave to Adam will be restored, and people will be able to live happily, and see their loved ones come to life again. “ To the family, I offer my sincere sympathy. At times like these it may seem that there is no source of comfort. No source of relief from your sorrow. I have been able to find comfort in God's word, The Bible. I have found comfort from the wonderful hope expressed at Acts 24:15 and the promise made at John 5:28, 29. May these serve as a source of comfort for you.##imported-begin##Gwen Winston##imported-end##
