

Horace Vince Henry Sr.

July 30, 1929 - March 28, 2012

Horace V. Henry, Sr., affectionately known as “Popo”, departed this life at Sinai Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland on March 28, 2012 to be with the Lord. Horace was born to the late Hilda Henry on July 30, 1929 in Trinidad and Tobago. He was the second of two boys.

Horace migrated to the United States from Trinidad and Tobago in 1969. After settling in Baltimore, Maryland, he met Addie, better known as Pearl. They later got married and out of this union had a son, Vincent H. Henry, Jr.

Horace was a member of the T & T Baltimore Steel band for many years. He enjoyed going to the Lexington Market on Thursdays and Fridays to listen to Jazz music and eat peanuts; he used to say they have the best nuts.

Horace leaves to cherish his memory: one son, Vincent H. Henry, Jr.; one grandson, Jacob Henry; three granddaughters, Andrea Henry, Mykala Henry and Kylie Henry, all of Baltimore; a very special and dear friend, Bell of Baltimore; a dear and only cousin, Pearl Potts; brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Jack and Peggy Gittens; and a host of family and friends around Baltimore.

“ Please accept my condolences to you and your family during this time of bereavement. Death is never something that we get used to because we were not designed to die. Our loving God Jehovah created our first parents to live forever. Through their sin death was passed down to us. However, Jehovah gives us a future hope for our dead loved ones through his promises recorded in the Bible at John 5:28, “all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out”. He further explains what He will do with death at Isaiah 25:8, “He will actually swallow up death forever”. What a wonderful and loving God we have to be able to see our loved ones again and NEVER have to deal with death again! May you find comfort in the scriptures and prayer.
