

Hubert Jerome Kitchen

January 12, 1960 - August 13, 2012

Hubert Jerome Kitchen, b.k.a. “Cool Joe” was born on January 12, 1960 to the late Herbert Kitchen and Doris Abraham. He departed this life after a lengthy illness.

Hubert received his education at Northwestern High School, where he was an honor student. He was a stickler on education in which he instilled in his children.

He retired as a correctional officer for the State of Maryland, Baltimore City Detention Center. Shortly there after he accepted Jesus Christ as his Lord and Savior. He always immaculately dressed, had a passion for music and fancy cars; especially the Isley Brothers, “Hold back these tears”, his favorite song. He was a man who truly enjoyed being around family, never short on conversation, nor his stern advice. His personality contributed to his popularity and led to many long standing friendships. Most of all he enjoyed reminiscing on his life.

He leaves to cherish his memory: two daughters, Ashley and Courtney; stepson, Marcus; grandson, Kaden; mother, Doris; sister, Shirley; three brothers, Lonnie, Anthony and James; aunt, Linda; two sisters-in-law, Danita and Valerie; a loving and devoted friend, Roberta Carter and in that relationship were three special children and nine grandchildren.

“ I'm so sorry for your loss and would like to offer my condolences to your family. Death is such a terrible thing for a family to go through, I actually lost my mom about 3yrs ago. I'm truly grateful that I have the truth about death and look forward to the future when there will be a resurrection of both the righteous and the unrighteous.”— ACTS 24:15. I'm sure you would love to see your dead loved one again in the coming Paradise here on earth! Again so sorry for your loss!!

Hubert was one of my best childhood friends. We hung out just about every day for a couple of our early teen/pre-teen years. We had great respect for each other. I remember that we were very competitive in all we'd do. Whether it was baseball, basketball, boxing, or marbles, it was always a competition thing with us. We'd have a karate match every day, and I still have the scars on my shin to prove it. As we grew older we, went our separate ways, but never lose contact.

Huber was a trend setter. He didn't follow others, he blazed his own trails. If he thought something looked good, it didn't matter what others thought, he'd wear it... and wear it with class. He was a big thinker, and didn't mind buying what he wanted... When others were driving around in Pinto's, Hubert was sporting a Lincoln Continental. Although we didn't see each other much as adults, when we'd cross paths that genuine respect was still there. He was a loving and protective father to his girls. He only wanted them to have the best. Hubert will be missed, but know that his impact will carry on. I love you my brother!

Peace & Love
