“ Please accept my condolences for the loss of your dear loved one. Over the years my husband and I have received much comfort from the loving promises found in the Bible. One such comforting verse is Acts 24:15- "There is going to be a resurrection." May you also receive much comfort and strength from this loving promise of the Bible.##imported-begin##Sharon Hill##imported-end##

“ To the family and friends of Mrs. Brown, I offer my sincere condolences to you all. Death brings so much pain and sorrow to the loved ones left behind. We never want to lose our loved ones in death. This was never God's purpose for us. His desire is for people to live in peace and happiness forever, and for his will to be done on earth, just as it is being done in heaven. One day Jehovah promises that the dead will be ressurected back to life, because he will swallow up death foever and certainly wipe the tears from all faces. Isaiah 25:8,and John 5:28,29. May the hope of the ressurection bring comfort to your hearts, and help you to cope with your loss.##imported-begin##R Johnson##imported-end##
