

Ira E. Fleming

February 18, 1956 - December 27, 2008

IRA EUGENE FLEMING SR. was born February 18, 1956 in Baltimore, Maryland, to the late Samuel Fleming and Mildred Hope. He departed from this earthly life suddenly on Saturday, December 27, 2008 at 3:45 a.m. Ira received his education in the Baltimore City Public School System and continued on in the Indiana Job Corps Center. He was known for his jokes and eating Popeye's Chicken by those who knew him. Ira was affectionately known as "Fats." His legacy lives on through his four children. Ira was loved by all who came to know him. His long life companion, Beatrice Durham preceded his in death. Ira leaves to cherish his memory: three sons, Ira Jr., Keith Sr., Tyron; daughter, Valencia; nine grandchildren, Ira III, Taiwai, Shenira, Keith Jr., Shantia, Kevin, Neavontay, Rashawn, Tysheira; sister, Valencia Stewart; one brother, Louis Hope (two brothers preceded him in death, Michael and Charles Hope); four nieces, Yvonne, Michelle Hope, Felicia Lyons; nephew, Michael Hope Jr.; and other family members; his three best friends, Tonya, Crip and Fred; and a host of other friends.

Tribute Wall

“ Ira E. Fleming

October 13, 2022 at 08:33 AM

“ How's it going up there big guy? Everyone really misses you and granny down here. It's been hard. The family isn't the same anymore. You two kept the love flowing like a river but when you guys left that river ran dry which is sad to say. But here me out. I'm gonna do everything in my power to bring that love back into this family. Y'all spirits shall love on forever and the embrace of the love you two gave me with be stretched across their hearts as well. I love you so much. I hope you got some bread for that chicken and a tall Pepsi to wash it down with❤️ And I know you're right next to granny hugs and kisses for her please. Granny I wish I payed more attention to what you were telling me. Until we meet again. There's lessons to learn and hearts to touch I hope I make you guys proud!!😊

Kevin Fleming - January 26, 2022 at 10:33 AM

“ 13 yrs later an I'm still not the same my only two best friends. You an mommy was my world. But since then I've had gotten married an had another baby boy an it's like your back with me because he really have your personality an your ways an sometimes I just laugh because he really act like you dad, I'm not going to be long so this is what I'm going to say , Love you an misses y'all dearly but I won't stop continue to rest until we meet again I love you dad.

valencia flemingealey - December 27, 2020 at 06:37 PM

“ To the family of Mr. Fleming, I offer my sincere sympathy. It truly is unfortunate that we experience the sorrow associated with the loss of one we love. Rest assured that God purposed for us to live a long eternal life and his purpose has not changed. He offers the resurrection hope (Acts 24:15) for those who have fallen asleep in death and the hope of life everlasting (Rev 21:3,4) for those who exercise faith (John 3:16). May this provide you with comfort now and in the days to come.##imported-begin##Gwen Winston##imported-end##

July 02, 2010 at 02:21 PM

“ To The Fleming Family, I would like to offer my deepest sympathy for the loss of your dear loved one. Times like these are never easy but the Bible encourages us to throw our burdens on God and he will sustain us (Psalm 55:22) in our sorrow. John 5:28-29 also speaks about a time when there will be a resurrection of those who have fallen asleep in death. Continue to lean upon the God of all comfort (1Cor1:3-5) to gain the strength and support needed to endure. Warmest regards, Chandra Murphy##imported-begin##Chandra Murphy##imported-end##

July 02, 2010 at 02:21 PM

“ Please accept my condolences for the loss of your dear loved one. Acts 24:15 lovingly declares there is going to be a resurrection. May you receive much comfort and strength from this wonderful hope found in the Holy Bible.##imported-begin##Sharon Hill##imported-end##

July 02, 2010 at 02:21 PM