

Iris Mae Willis

December 5, 1917 - May 4, 2002

Iris Mae Willis, daughter of the late George and Julia Willis, was born on December 5, 1917 and was raised in Parkton, North Carolina. She departed this life on May 4, 2002. She received her education in the Parkton public schools in North Carolina. In 1937, Iris moved to Baltimore and got work as a domestic worker. Iris loved to cook and spend time with her family. Iris was known to most as Mae, but to her grandchildren and great-grandchildren she was known as Nanny. Iris made numerous friends in her lifetime, and she was very kind and loving to all that knew her. She was a family-oriented person, and when one of us would tell her at any given time "I love you," she would never respond with "I love you too;" instead she would always say, "I love all of you too." Mae leaves to mourn: two beautiful daughters, Lucille Wormack and Geraldine Harrison; two sons-in-law, James Wormack and James Smith; one brother, Neil Willis; thirteen grandchildren, twenty-three great-grandchildren, five great-great-grandchildren; three nieces, one being Alice Willis, whom she raised as a daughter; two great-nieces, one great-great-niece and a host of other relatives and friends.
