

Isiah Greenwood

May 16, 2005 - November 30, 2023

ISIAH LAMONT GREENWOOD, known everywhere as “Bird”, was born on May 16, 2005 to Candy Greenwood and Lamont Alexander. Bird tragically departed this life on November 30, 2023.

Bird began his education in the Baltimore City Public School System and later strived to obtain his certification in facility maintenance, wanting to take after his favorite uncle, Chop. Bird had a big heart and stood on many principles.

He loved his family and did not play about his mother. Bird looked out for everyone. He was always reaching into his pockets and blessing those around him with a couple of dollars. I think we could all agree that Bird could have been a comedian. You could always catch him grinning from ear to ear. He would just be cheesing for no reason with a goofy smile, while exposing his one dimple that was so deep you could put half of your finger in.

Cracking jokes with his cousins, brother, and even his brother’s friends was a daily comedy show for all who had the pleasure of witnessing. For those who know, Bird was loud. Every time you saw him, he was screaming his favorite song or yelling at someone on the phone.

The Lord knows that he could not whisper. Most importantly, Bird was a paper chaser. He did not have too many jobs. In the family he stayed with a stack of money he hustled from his mother, his uncle, his siblings, and whoever else he could finesse.

Bird is survived by: his mother, Candy Greenwood; father, Lamont Alexander; brother, Demetrick Greenwood; two sisters, Sadie Greenwood and Danielle Simms; two nieces, Alaiya Carroll and Kayleigh Simms; one nephew, Jayce Carroll; brothers-in-law, Karon and Jeffery; aunts, Edna, Patience, Precious Marsia, Umillas and Sharon; uncles Carlester, William and Woodrow, and a host of family, friends and other loved ones.
