

Ivy L. Dupree

January 2, 1959 - July 6, 2022

IVY LEA DUPREE was born on January 2, 1959 to Bessie Cox and Frederick Miller. A lifelong resident of Baltimore, Maryland, Ivy attended Baltimore City Public Schools. She later gave birth to three sons—Melvin Cox, Teon Cox, and Colby Davis. In 1985, she married purple heart army veteran, Van Dupree.

Ivy was known for her sense of humor and ability to talk to anyone. She could light up a room with her smile and love saying “you know it,” with a laugh. As a teenager, she developed the ability to create beautiful outfits, maintaining an interest in hair, fashion, and makeup throughout her life. She had a great eye for design.

In her spare time, Ivy enjoyed watching Judge Judy and Bonanza reruns. She frequently treated herself to seafood salad subs and fruit salads from her favorite place, Lexington Market. She also enjoyed listening to Michael Jackson, her favorite artist, and the Stylistics song, “You Make Me Feel Brand New.”

Ivy loved helping others and will be dearly missed. She was preceded in death by her husband, Van Dupree; her mother, Bessie Cox; her father, Frederick Miller; and her sister, Debra Cox. She leaves to mourn: her three sons, Melvin Cox, Teon Cox, and Colby Davis; her sister, Fern Countess; her
