“ I am so sorry for your loss. The death of a loved one is such a painful time. Only God truly understands the depth of your pain, and he offers comfort and hope to each of you at this most difficult time. Please read Isaiah 26:19, Psalm 37:29 and John Chapter 11.

“ Please accept my sympathy for your loss. May family and friends be comforted by the wonderful promise at Revelation 21:4: "And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes and death will be no more. Neither mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away."

To The Family of James Brown Jr;

I would like to offer my condolences and pray your grief will not be burdensome; burdensome in that it does not weigh you down emotionally, physically and spiritually. Death has such a powerful effect it can truly leave the survivors shipwrecked; even to the point with some, living is not living. When we look to God for our strength during such a crucial time we are able to draw comfort from that. Continue to put trust and faith in Jehovah God because He is aware of your pain and suffering. When you lose a love one to death it not only causes pain to you but also Jehovah God suffers that pain with you just as He suffered at the loss of His son Jesus. Since He never purposed mankind to live as we do today with the constant threat of death He gave His only begotten son in our behalf that we may have an opportunity to life everlasting (John 3:16). Jehovah has promised according to Rev 21:4 death will be no more along with the many things that causes pain and suffering. Is 25:8 states death will be swallowed up. As for our love ones loss to death John 5:28-29 states Jesus has the authority to resurrect them back to life on earth. Yes Dan 12:2 says those sleeping in the ground of dust will wake up, that will truly be an amazing time and a time to finally see all the promises Jehovah God has made come to light. Is 55:11 states God's word will not return without results because His word is truth. (John 17:17) Though death will never be a joyous occasion in how we know and have experienced joy, we find a special joy in only the way Jehovah gives during times like this. Just know James is resting in God's memory and one day soon in our life time he will be a part of a resurrection that only Jehovah will allow by means of Christ Jesus to take place earth wide. I pray the God of Comfort will embrace you with His love.

My name is Tara and I just wanted to give my deepest sympathy to the family & friends of Mr. James Brown Jr. The death of a loved one is one of the most devastating experiences a human can face. At times the loss may seem unbearable. I know there's nothing I can say or do to take the hurt and pain away at a time such as this. Hopefully you can find some comfort through these scriptures found in the Bible. Faithful Job asked if an able-bodied man dies can he live again. The question Job asked is one that many of us have asked as well. Well you will be pleased to know that the Bible makes the promise found in Isaiah 26:19 that read, "Your dead ones will live. A corpse of mine—they will rise up. Awake and cry out joyfully, YOU residents in the dust! For your dew is as the dew of mallows and the earth itself will let even those impotent in death drop [in birth]. In the near future Revelations 21:3, 4 soon will be fulfilled, and it says, with that I heard a loud voice from the throne say: "Look! The tent of God is with mankind, and he will reside with them, and they will be his peoples. And God himself will be with them. And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning or outcry nor is pain anymore. The former things have passed away." When the enemy death strikes your grief can be so great, but even at a time it would be beneficial to heed to what the Psalmist said in Psalms 55:22 "Throw your burden upon Jehovah himself, and he himself will sustain you. Never will he allow the righteous one to totter. Hopefully these scriptures brought a little comfort to you. James 4:8 reminds us that if we draw close to God, he will draw close to you.
