“ Remember when we got stuck on the elevator over missy's old building? Things were tough at first but I've began healing. It's crazy because we were each others unsung hero, secret admire, we shared so many funny and serious times especially after I had Cayla, and you are always gonna be my numeral UNO! My husband! I miss that I can't ask about you on the LOW anymore.##imported-begin##Courtney##imported-end##

“ To the family, I am so sorry that you lost your James. Death is so hard to deal with, and even harder when the person is so young with their whole life ahead of them. This short life full of trouble is not what God intended for us. He desires everlasting life for his obedient children in peaceful and happy conditions. That is why John 3:16 says: "For God loved the world so much that he gave his only-begotten son; so that everyone exercising faith in him might not be destroyed, but have everlasting life." The bible says that one day the dead will hear the voice of the son of God, and those who have given heed will live. Many of such ones are in the memorial tombs (that is God"s memory) and they will hear Jesus"s voice calling them from those tombs to everlasting life. John 5L25-29. May you find much peace and comfort from reading and meditating on Jehovah"s holy word, and may your precious memories be a source of strength to you as well.##imported-begin##R Johnson##imported-end##

“ Crystal and Family, “Peace I leave with you, My peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.” John 14:27 I extend my deepest sympathy to you and your family in the loss of your Son, James Livingston, Jr. I pray that God will comfort your heart, fill you with peace, and give you hope. May you be comforted, by faith, that the Lord has taken James to a beautiful place of everlasting light and love. Trust in your faith that morning will break through the darkness, have faith that a bright, new dawn awaits and know that I will keep you in my prayers. God Bless and Strengthen You,##imported-begin##Darlene Wheatley##imported-end##
