“ I was so sorry to hear about Jim's passing. I remember Jim as fun loving and always ready to give a compliment to a young lady. I was just telling Lawrence last week that we need to pay him a surprise visit, not knowing that he would not be here with us. It is said that when you are absent from the body, you're in the presence of Our Lord and Savior. That is the comfort that I find in these situations. So, may the peace of God comfort and keep you through these times. Lean on Him and all will work out in time.##imported-begin##Vicki Hennigan-Palmer##imported-end##

“ Please accept my heartfelt condolences for your loss. Jehovah God comforts and strengthens us when we go through trials, and he has promised that we will see our loved ones in the resurrection. He has entrusted his son, Jesus, with all authority to resurrect the dead. John 5:25-29 says, "The hour is coming, and it is now, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who have given heed will live. "For just as the father has life in himself, so he has granted also to the Son to have life in himself, and he has given him authority to do judging, because Son of Man he is. "Do not marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out; those who did good things to a resurrection of life. So James and billions of others will have their life restored to them in the promised resurrection. May your precious memories of James sustain you until that glorious day of salvation arrives.##imported-begin##R Johnson##imported-end##
