

James E. Young Sr.

September 12, 1946 - January 1, 2016

James Esper Young, Jr., or "Butch" to friends, was the son of James Esper Young Sr. and Bessie Hawkins.

James received his education through the Baltimore City School System. "Butchie" was a very quiet yet mischievous child who enjoyed life playing and exploring Baltimore City.

In 1969, James married and from this union, James Esper Young III and Caran Young were born. In 1974, Tisha Bailey was born.

In 1980, he met the love of his life, Alice "Speck" Rhone. James and Speck were married after a brief courtship. He and Alice were inseparable for over thirty-five years. Butch and Speck loved children and during their union they raised, Victor, Shana, Tasha Blount and Ameryst Lee. They affectionately called him "Uncle" and he raised them as his children.

Butch was a hard worker who held many jobs over the years with the City of Baltimore where he made many friends. Most of his career was spent at the Baltimore Convention Center as the Carpet Technician. He enjoyed his job at the Convention Center and took pride in taking many young men under his wing teaching them not only their jobs, but many lessons in life. He loved his job and retired in 2012.

Butch will always be loved and missed by: his wife, Alice Young; two sisters, Roni Gross and Rhudine Snowden; his brother Elvin Young (preceded him in death); his daughters, Caran Young, Tisha Bailey, Lisa and Marlo Mack, Tasha Blount and Ameryst Lee; sons, James III and Victor. He also leaves several grandchildren, great-grandchildren; and a host of other relatives and friends who will miss him dearly.
