

Jammal C. Spratley

May 8, 1982 - March 28, 2026

JAMMAL SPRATLEY, also affectionately known as “Big Baby,” was born on May 8, 1982, in Baltimore, Maryland, to Sandra Spratley-Adams and the late Henry Charles Stevens. He departed this life on March 28, 2026.

Jammal attended Baltimore City Public Schools, and graduated from Northwestern High School. He then went on to attend Hampton University in Hampton, Virginia.

Jammal had a wide variety of talents. He played the saxophone, was a mixed martial arts champion, public speaker, and chess player.

Jammal gave his life to Christ at the young age of five at Bethel A.M.E. Church. Also, it was at Bethel where he was baptized.

He always wanted to make his own money and be his own boss. From this desire came the business Civil Kings Strategic Services. This is where he began providing security services for the Hampton Roads area. As a result, it allowed Jammal to provide security services for a number of stars such as Chrisette Michelle and Morris Chestnut, just to name a few. Security services were his passion, and it came easily to him.

Jammal embraced the Hampton Roads area and it became home to him.

Here is where he cultivated many friendships and relationships with people. His presence will be missed.

He is preceded by his grandmothers, Eleanor Stevens and Mary Spratley, bonus dad Bruce Adams, and dad Henry Stevens.

Jammal leaves to cherish his memory: his mother, Sandra Lavois Spratley-Adams; aunt, Gretchel Spratley affectionately known as "Yah", and Sheila Hart; brother, Kyle Duncan (Tiame); bonus brother, Christopher Mark Adams, Sr. (Misty); fiancée, Rachel Curry; godmother, Carol Gamble; a devoted health assistant, Deborah Jenkins; several nieces and nephews, and a host of other relatives and friends.

“ I am not well versed in this experience.I have never lost a son before.To put it expressly accurate,someone who was in his earlier days like a son.We had a mutual respect for what it is to love from afar.

It was when Jamal was eight years old full of curiosity about the things of life that Jammal asked me to explain.As was his personal ity,he wanted details.As I carefully navigated my way through sensitive territory for an eight year old asking adult questions that he would never have the nerve to ask his mother,I hope the operation was successful as Jammal turned out to be a well rounded and stable young man.Kudos to his mother,aunt and Granny, especially.My role was "Mr. Ronald", to answer those boyhood questions that didn't have easy answers.

I thank God for my relationship with Jammal.It was a challenge that I was not always prepared for but thankfully and hopefully I found the right answer for an eight year old that was both innocent and mature beyond his age, at the time.

It is my hope to meet you,Jammal some day when you will be able to answer my questions about heaven.
