

Jason T. Ballard

July 3, 1986 - January 24, 2015

Jason T. Ballard son of Antoinette and Dale Ballard born on July 3, 1986, was returned to God's embrace on January 24, 2015. Jason was preceded in death by his brother Stanley Parsons. His loyalty to his friends was unrivaled.

He was educated within the Baltimore City School system. He majored in welding and was a standout football player. He continued his education and love of sports at Parkville High School where he graduated. Of all of his interests Jason's passions were his family, music, and football. If he wasn't with his family you find him in the studio producing music. He loved and cherished the times he spent with his sons. He wanted to enrich his son with culture diversity and education. So any given Sunday, you find him caring for his family or cheering on his favorite team. When it came to his career, every job Jason ever held outlined his intelligence and his style for learning a skill quickly and his love for use with his hands. Then assisting with the education and special needs children to machines at the Blind Industries and Jet Blast. Jason was forever the standout employee. At the time of his death, Jason was a Refinisher at Central Wholesalers Inc. Jason had started his own Kitchen and Bathroom remodeling business part time.

Jason is survived by his parents Antoinette and Dale Ballard, two sons Tyron Ballard age 5 and Julian Ballard age 8. He also leaves to mourn one sister in law Sherri Parsons, one sister Sho'shonnia Davis, one brother in law Lee

Davis, his fiancée Amber Smith and special friend Ciara Boyd.

“ Up reflecting...you know me. Always learning and teaching. Anyway, I was looking you up as I do rather frequently and found this. I miss you Jason. One day you'll call me, I just know it and we'll go to a basement studio and lay something down. This time you can drive. I love you.
