

Jean E. Whiting

October 30, 1937 - December 3, 2013

JEAN ELLEN WHITING was born on October 30, 1937. She departed this life on December 3, 2013 after suffering a lengthy illness. Jean attended Baltimore City schools and worked at Franklin Square Hospital for thirty-five years from which she retired. Jean was a very loving and caring person. She was very dedicated to her job and family. Jean took pride in cooking for her family and adored her only two grandchildren and spoiled them. She was not the one to use profanity, so instead her favorite sayings were, "Go to cowboy snot" and "Your dead hind parts ain't piss," which kept everybody laughing all the time. She had her own unique personality which made everyone love her. Jean was preceded in death by: her mother, Louise Whiting; father, Leonard Whiting; son, John (Tommy) Whiting; a sister, Dorothy Dilver; brothers, Leonard Whiting Jr., Mark Whiting and Raymond Whiting. Jean leaves to mourn: her children, Carolyn Whiting and Gwen Whiting; grandchildren, Chantá Sketers and Michael Whiting; great-grandchildren, Shakeena Whiting, Malayah Whiting and Kyree Whiting; sisters, Joyce Beasley and Vanessa Thorpe of Virginia; brother, Jerry Whiting; four sisters-in-law, three brothers-in-law; four uncles, four aunts; a special family friend, Kathy Berkley; and a host of other relatives and friends.

Do not stand at my grave and weep I am not there; I do not sleep. I am a thousand winds that blow, I am the diamond glints on snow, I am the sun on ripened grain, I am the gentle autumn rain. When you awaken in the morning's hush, I am the swift uplifting rush Of quiet birds in circled flight. I am the soft stars that shine at night. Do not stand at my grave and cry, I am not there; I did not die. Mary Elizabeth Frye — 1932 Submitted by The Children
