

Jerome S. Bright 'Shorty'

December 1, 1948 - June 21, 2005

Jerome S. Bright, son of Julian Bright, Sr., and Shirley Bernice Hill (Bright) was born in Baltimore, Maryland on December 1, 1948. He departed from the life on June 21, 2005 in Maryland General Hospital. He received his education in the Baltimore Public School system. He attended Frederick Douglass High School and was also a member of St. Peter's Claver Catholic Church. Jerome's profession was a dental lab technician. He worked at Cooperative Dental Lab as well as Aronvitch Dental Lab in Baltimore City. Jerome had started his own business from home, a small dental lab in Baltimore, Maryland for a short time. But Jerome's true passion was motorcycles and cars. He left home at an early age to pursue this dream, joining a motorcycle club called the Bandalaros and owning his own Harley-Davidson motor bike. He was happy with the wind at his feet. He had many nicknames, but was affectionately known as Cancer or Shorty. He was a true friend and devoted father, Jerome never forgot his devoted cherished and companions. He leaves to mourn mother, Shirley, twin brother, Julian Jr., brother Vernon; sisters, Janice and Valerie; daughter, `Malaika-Tamu (Jean) and Vanessa; two sons, Sean and Aaron; five stepchildren, four grandchildren, and a host of nieces, nephews, loved ones and friends.
