“ Please accept my condolences for the loss of your loved one. 1 Corinthians 15:26 reveals that our "enemy death" will be destroyed. Also, Acts 24:15 lovingly declares that "there is going to be a resurrection". May you receive much comfort and strength from this wonderful hope found in the Bible.##imported-begin##Mrs. Sharon Hill##imported-end##

“ I send my sincere condolences to the family of Jerome. . Although it's been several months since he died, I know the pain is still fresh, because it never really goes away, and no matter how many people we lose, it is something we can never get used to. That is because Jehovah created us to live, not to die. Even the bible says at Ecclesiastes 3:11 the bible says that he has put time indefinite into our hearts. Now if he didnot desire for us to live forever, why would he put that thought in our hearts? We are all so used to living, and we enjoy life so much, dispite of our promblems, that the thought of dying is repungnant to us. One day that natural desire that we have to live will come to pass, because 1st Cor 15:26 promises that Jehovah will destroy this enemy death, that causes us so much pain. John 17:3 promises that if we are willing to take in knoledge of God, and of the one whom he sent forth, Jesus, Christ, then we will have everlasting life. Taking in knoledge is the first step, but what we do with that knoledge is the important thing. We must exercise faith in the ransom sacrifice Jesus paid in our behalf, then we can recieve the free gift of everlasting life. John 3:16. One day all pain and sorrow will be past, and our dead loved ones will come to life again. May you find much comfort in Jehovah's wonderful promises, and may your precious memories of Jerome bring fond memories to your hearts of happier days spent with him. Trust in Jehovah's promises, because he cannot lie and always fullfills his word. Titus 1:2, Isiah 55:11.
