“ To the family and friends, I offer my condolences. It truly is unfortunate that we must experience the sorrow associated with the loss of one we love. May you find comfort and strength from the "God of all comfort" (2 Corinthians 1:3,4) who promises at Isaiah 66:13, "Like a man whom his own mother keeps comforting, so I myself shall keep comforting you people."##imported-begin##Gwen Winston##imported-end##

“ Please accept my sincere and heartfelt condolences. At such times we need the comfort that only Almighty God can give us, the power beyond what is normal to sustain us. 2nd Cor 4:7. Death is our enemy, and one day Jehovah God promises at 1st Cor 15:26, "As the last enemy, death will be brought to nothing. Adam and Eve brought sickness and death upon us, because of their rebellion against God, but Jesus, by his loyalty and integrity paved the way to undo the sad legacy Adam left us. The scriptures tell us at 1st Cor 15:22, "For just as in Adam all are dying, so also in the Christ all will be made alive." By means of the resurrection all those asleep in death will rise up. John 5:28,29 May you find comfort and hope in the resurrection to help you to cope in the days ahead.##imported-begin##R Johnson##imported-end##

“ Dear Daddy, I only wish I had one more day, one more moment, and one more chance, to tell you how much I loved you and how much I miss you. I am happy that you are no longer suffering, but know that those of us who are left here to cherish your memory are grief stricken and heavy hearted. In time, I know we will see each other again, and I cannot wait for that blissful day. I love you. Your daughter, Jerelle##imported-begin##Jerelle##imported-end##
